Displaying submitted input files

You can see what input files have been submitted to an input device and are waiting to be processed. After the input device submits the input files for processing, they are no longer visible as input files.

To display a submitted input file:

1. In the Input Devices portlet, right-click the input device whose input files you want to see and select Show Files.
2. When you finish looking at the input files table, click CLOSE.
